DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent; or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for the purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English.

7. Claims (1-14) rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gutta, US 6,727,914.

Regarding claim 1, Gutta discloses as claimed:

A method to facilitate use of an interactive program guide, comprising:
providing access to characterizing descriptors as individually correspond to a plurality of discrete selectable audio/visual programs (column 3, lines 38-42);
displaying an interactive program guide comprising at least one of the characterizing descriptors as corresponds to a particular one of the discrete selectable audio/visual programs (column 3, lines 22-24);

Art Unit: 4157

detecting preliminary selection of a particular one of the discrete selectable audio/visual programs to provide a preliminarily selected audio/visual program (column 1, lines 35-44);

when a user selects the preliminarily selected audio/visual program, automatically taking a first predetermined action with respect to the preliminarily selected audio/visual program (column 1, lines 35-44);

when a user preliminarily selects a different one of the plurality of discrete selectable audio/visual program, automatically taking a second predetermined action with respect to the preliminarily selected audio/visual program, which second predetermined action is different than the first predetermined action (column 1, lines 35-44);

when a user takes an action with respect to the preliminarily selected audio/visual program, which action does not comprise either selecting the preliminarily selected audio/visual program or preliminarily selecting a different audio/visual program, automatically taking a third predetermined action with respect to the preliminarily selected audio/visual program, which third predetermined action is different than the first and the second predetermined action (column 1, lines 35-44).

Regarding claim 2:

The method of claim 1 wherein the characterizing descriptors as individually correspond to a plurality of discrete selectable audio/visual programs comprise at least one of: a programming network identifier; a broadcast starting time; a description of audio/visual content as corresponds to the audio/visual program; audio/visual program media source (column 3, lines 38-42).

Regarding claim 3:

The method of claim 2 wherein the plurality of discrete selectable audio/visual programs are embodied in a plurality of media (column 2, lines 5-12).

Regarding claim 4:

The method of claim 1 wherein taking a first predetermined action comprises adding information regarding the preliminarily selected audio/visual program to a list of preferred items (column 2, lines 12-16).

Regarding claim 5:

The method of claim 1 wherein taking a second predetermined action comprises moving an area of visual focus away from the preliminarily selected audio/visual program (column 3, lines 22-26).

Regarding claim 6:

The method of claim 1 wherein taking a third predetermined action comprises displaying the list of preferred items (column 3, lines 22-26).

Regarding claim 7:

Art Unit: 4157

The method of claim 1 wherein:

taking a first predetermined action comprises adding information regarding the preliminarily selected audio/visual program to a list of preferred items;

taking a second predetermined action comprises moving an area of visual focus away from the preliminarily selected audio/visual program;

and taking a third predetermined action comprises displaying the list of preferred items. This claim is a restatement of claims 4-6, and is thus rejected for the reasons listed above.

Regarding claim 8:

The method of claim 1 wherein detecting preliminary selection of a particular one of the discrete selectable audio/visual programs further comprises detecting at least a predetermined relationship between a present position of one of the characterizing descriptors as corresponds to the particular one of the discrete selectable audio/visual programs and an area of visual focus (column 3, lines 53-59).

Regarding claim 9:

The method of claim 1 and further comprising determining when the user selects the preliminarily selected audio/visual program by detecting when the user asserts a selection action at a time when a characterizing descriptor as corresponds to the preliminarily selected audio/visual program occupies, at least in part, a same portion of a display as a predetermined area of visual focus (column 3, lines 53-59).

Art Unit: 4157

Regarding claim 10:

A method to facilitate provision of an interactive programming guide, comprising:

providing access to characterizing descriptors as individually correspond to a plurality of discrete selectable items of audio/visual content (column 3, lines 38-42);

providing an updatable list of preferred items of audio/visual content (column 1, lines 42-44);

displaying an interactive programming guide comprising at least one of the characterizing descriptors (column 1, lines 42-44);

providing an area of visual focus on a particular displayed one of the characterizing descriptors (column 1, lines 42-44);

in response to a first signal, adding information regarding the discrete selectable item of audio/visual content as corresponds to the particular displayed one of the characterizing descriptors as is presently in the area of visual focus to the updatable list of preferred items of audio/visual content (column 1, lines 45-54);

in response to a second signal that is different from the first signal, moving the area of visual focus to a different one of the characterizing descriptors (column 1, lines 45-54);

in response to a third signal that is different from both the first signal and the second signal, displaying the updatable list of preferred items of audio/visual content (column 1, lines 45-54).

Art Unit: 4157

Regarding claim 11:

The method of claim 10 wherein the response to the third signal further comprises not displaying characterizing descriptors as correspond to items of audio/visual content that are not on the list of preferred items of audio/visual content (column 3, lines 1-5).

Regarding claim 12:

The method of claim 10 further comprising: receiving at least one of the first signal, the second signal, and the third signal from a remote control device. It is inherent to use a remote control in this capacity.

Regarding claim 13:

The method of claim 10 wherein the plurality of discrete selectable items of audio/visual content are embodied in a plurality of media (column 2, lines 5-12).

Regarding claim 14:

The method of claim 10 further comprising: automatically adding information corresponding to a particular one of the plurality of discrete selectable items of audio/visual content to the updatable list of preferred items of audio/visual content when the area of visual focus is on a characterizing descriptor as corresponds to the particular one of the plurality of discrete selectable items of audio/visual content for greater than a predetermined length of time (column 3, lines 53-59).
